~ September 1976

Here I am, preparing for what I hope will be, a memorable moment among the many I have already endured. I'm wondering what this year holds in store for me. There is a multitude of challenges which must be overcome in order to be fulfilled. I have questions that appear to be unanswerable now, but will be explained by the future: Will I make new friends? Will old friends be taken away from me? Will any of my courses pose a major problem for me? Will there be times worth remembering? ... worth forgetting? Sometimes I worry about how to accomplish my goals, or if I'll ever reach them at all.

Cheryl McCullough - Roxanne Kamann

Smiles

As we fare our final year here before entering into the "real" world, It becomes evident what must be accomplished—decisions to make, ambitions to meet, and new goals to set. But somehow we find the time to have fun and enjoy this year. This is essential because never will there be another period of our lives comparable to it. We discover ourselves being the leaders instead of the successors, the creators instead of the followers, and the versed instead of the naive. Now is when we must take advantage of our position, for soon the shadows will pass And the time will come to build new ones.

As I look back on my shadows,
two people are projected.
These people have provided a place to run
to when I was hurt.
They have guided me, laughed with me, advised me,
and grounded me.

As I look on my shadows now,
I see these people sad to see me grow up—
Sad to see me leave—
Sad to see me go forth into the world.

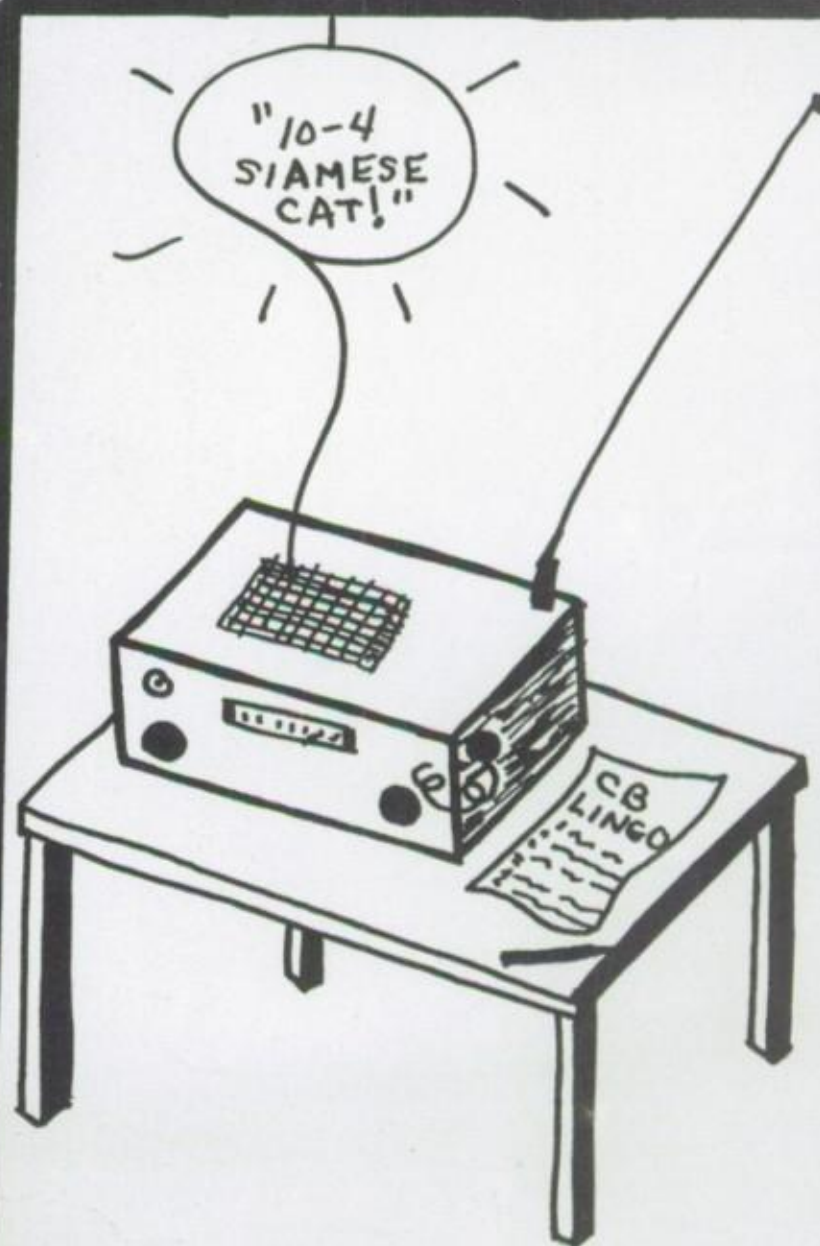

As I look ahead to the shadows
I have yet to create.
These people slowly become separate shadows.
But somehow they do not blend in with the others I have created—
For they are my parents, and will always be special.

K.Keel

Romulus' helpful people to the students who travel

... the ones who we have to thank for taking us to school ... to away games ... and on field trips ... of course they deserve thanks ... and, each time they see us safely home, they should get another thanks ... but, do we think of that when we throw papers, talk loud, and do other annoying things? ... No, of course, we don't ... each day we send them home a wreck and by some miracle they come back every morning ... maybe we don't remember to say thanks any other time but lets say it now. Thanks, busdrivers—you have been swell!

A lost shadow . . .

This year we were greatly saddened by the loss of two members of our custodial staff, Richard Wagner and Cliff Kaufman. They were devoted men who worked hard at Romulus for quite a few years. Both were well-liked by their co-workers and those around them, and will long be remembered.

Pride plays an important role . . . our school is a clean one . . . thanks to our custodial staff . . . remembering the many duties, the dependability, and the good work of Dick Wagner . . . finding it hard to replace him and Cliff Kaufman . . . yet managing by the cooperation of staff members . . . they will work it out . . . after all: they are Romulus people!

Elementary Chess Club

... Let's play a game ... "Your move" ... Mr. Crosby ... learning the rules ... a rook cannot move diagonally ... check ... pawns ... knight and bishop ... "Hey! What is this? King Arthur?" ... check ... "Watch the board!" ... Queens can move anywhere ... check ... "I'll lose my Queen if I block that one!" ... How come knights move so funny?" ... checkmate!

ACTIVE MEMBERSHIP: Martha Long (1976 President) Bryan Kaufman, Susan Dargle, Patti Klemann, Kevin Scorzafava, Richie Jensen, Scott Warne (1977 President), Joell Larsen, Sandy Davids, Lisa Hall, Tom Hall, Ralph Poormon, Shelly Hilkert, Advisor Mr. Crosby.

Bryan Kaufman points out the space to which his opponent may move.

The elementary partake in many and varied plays and assemblies during the year. This is one done in the Spring of '76.

Miss Neubert and Mrs. Steele take part in the dress-up that occurs for Halloween.

Art classes in the grades produce many interesting things, such as these projects entitled, "As I see myself."

Thanksgiving seems to bring about a bit of charity as most students rather make an Indian than a Pilgrim.

THE ONES WHOSE SHADOWS WE INTEND TO FOLLOW

... "WOULD YOU LIKE TO BUY A PLACE IN OUR YEARBOOK FOR ADVERTISEMENT?" ... THE PRICES ARE ... WHOLE PAGES COST MORE ... "HOW MUCH DO WE NEED?" ... M'CURDY'S HAS A SALE THIS WEEK ... *Maria Marta
Landino*

Maria did not arrive at Romulus until January. Therefore we regret that she cannot be in the Senior section, but we do wish to make her welcome. "Glad to have you join us, Maria."

~ June 1977

Now that I glance back at the past year, all those questions seem senseless. Acquaintances who stepped into my life soon became part of it, and those who stepped out of my life will remain a part of it. What they gave to me is the gold of friendship. I conquered every obstacle which stood in my path, and that, at the time, was a foremost accomplishment. Oh yes, there are times worth remembering, fortunately more than those I wish to forget. Not every one of my goals was reached, but I still have time to fulfill them, for that is one thing the "young-at-heart" have ... time.
